The panic of the Court is subsiding. The three grand armies of Generals Yeh and Nich beyond the Great Wall and the disciplined troops of Li Hung-shang are forming an immense cordon round the insurgent bands and will eventually succeed in orashing or dispersing these hordes, but not probably until the Generals led at half the distance by a length it seemed have protracted their measures long enough to land importance to their operations. Two gunboats are reported at Tientsin, the Firebrand and Japanese Atago. An American and a French vessel have been urgently, and even nervously, appealed for by the respective Consuls at Lientsin; but they will not come. The somewhat abourd request one of them is reported to have made to Li Hung-chang for permission to march foreign blue jackets to Tientsin if the gunboat failed to enter savoured too much of the marching and counter marching between Chemulpo and Seoul for the nerves of the Viceroy, and it is said he requested the distinguished foreign official to keep his hair on, or words to that effect.

It is said that the British Minister is complaining to the Tanng-li Yamen of the increasing aggressiveness of the Peking populace towards foreigners, equestrian and pedestrian. None too soon, for the offence complained of has been going on for years and steadily getting worse. On the other hand some visitors were civilly treated the other day at the famous Lama temple in Peking. We hear that all the American missionaries at Tsunhua vacated the place on the slarm of troubles. The Catholics even at the sout of war were ordered by their bishop to remain at their posts

It seems that in order to get a share in the business the Moulden Governor berrowed and paid for a portion of the Chihli troops under General Nich. just as if they belonged to a system of autonomous loosely confederated states instead of to one great empire. Great slaughter is reported from the scenes of the recent actions, the unarmed rabble, for such after all they prove to be, being mown down wherever caught and the troops outling off their heads with choppers, grass-cutters, and implements of all kinds. The carnege was the greatest at the scene of the massacres of Christians. Another formidable attack on the Tsung Yamen was made the other day by M. Lemair the French Minister, to compel the Governme to dispense some favours to the poor French i dustries. His despatch is very threatening tone, but it has a conting of sugar ton, for B Excellency hints in pretty plain terms that the Chinese will give the French some vailwo contracts, all else will be forgotten and forgive As for the Christians-well, thirty pieces silver would be a consideration. You were to some months ago, in connection with the cou cert of the Powers, that France had already go cold as regards the united pressure. Now s bas the hot fit, but it is not for the protection of Christians or missionaries, but to feed hung French speculators. This is what the diploma of great nations now comes to in China.

MORE ABOUT THE HUNAN PUB. LICATIONS.

INTERESTING DISCLOSURES. Writing from Hankow on the 8th December Dr. Griffith John says in the N. C. Dail News :- In a letter just received from one of my native friends in Hunan there is one item of interesting news. My friend writes, " I feel surthat you have received my former letter, and that you have communicated the facts to the Viceroy Chang; for a despatch from the Viceroy has reached Hunan, and the Governor of Hunan has ordered the district magistrate to quickly seize and bring to trial the heads of the three printing establishments Teng Men hwn, Tseng Yen-wen, and Chen Ten-teh. The management of this affair (the publication and dissemination of the anti-foreign literature) i undertaken by Chou Ta jen who formerly hald the official rank of Taqtai. This man says that be has spent more than Tls. 20,000 on the publication and dissemination of anti-foreign books, tracts, and curtoons, At present he is a the district magistrate's office defending the cause of these three printing establishments, and bearing all the expenses connected with their trial He says that he alone is responsible, and th the affair has nothing to do with my one else." Such is the interesting bit of news which bas instructed me. Though my friend is wrong in supposing that there has been a direct communication between the Vicercy and myself, Sovaregons. Bank's Baving Rate 6.41 there can be no doubt that it is the discovery of Teng Men-hwa's guilt, made by me some weeks since, that has led to the arrest of the bends of these three printing establishments The names of the other two have not been un known to me; but, the proof of their guilt being not sufficient. I thought it best not to mention them at all. It is evident, however, that their true character has been known to the loca officials all along; and it is to be regretted tha it, was necessary that a foreigner should call public attention to the existence of this source of danger in thangsha, ere the officials could be induced to take the least not ce of it.

Personally I am thankful for the action which H.E. Chang Chih-tung has already taken in re gard to these printing establishments. But H.E. prepared to deal with Chou Ta jen, who i of course no other than Chou Han? You readers have not forgotten Chon Han's letter t his friend T' n the Governor of Hupeh-how h talls the Governor that all the anti-heresy pul lications are printed and disseminated by himself, in concert with the efficials and gentry, both civil and military, who have the management of affairs connected with the Banevolent Hall in Chang-sha-how he declare that his relative T'ang Ch'en-pih had been en trusted by himself and the managers of the Benevolent Hall with a quantity of these ; ubli cations for general distribution in Hupeh-how he boasts of the fact that he is the chief culpril defies both the Viceroy and the Governor, and demands the immediate release of his relative and all his companions. On that occasion Chou Han did not interfer in vain. His relation was released, and, over since, he himself has been carrying on his anti foreign crusade with as much energy as ever The Hunaa manifesto is, no doubt, a production of his brain and pen, and so is the pictorial work to which I called attention in my letter of the 21st ult. He is now interfering on behalf of these three printing establishments, and it remains to be seen with what success. But the errest and punishment of these three establishments is a matter of very secondary importance. The real offenders are thou Han and his official companions, and the put-ting down of this evil will depend wholly and entirely on the action that will be taken in reeard to them. In one of his placards Chou Hanwrites: "My neighbour Tsuei Wu-tze, when compiling the Death Blow to Corrupt Doctrines, concealed his real name, and called himself. The man most distressed in heart.' This he did in order to shun the print of the devils' pear. Not so Han." And he then gives his own name in full, together with the name of his native city. Whether he is a truly brave man, or whether he is merely presuming on his position and influence, I cannot say. In any case his name is well known to the higher officials as the inspirer and leader of this autiforeign movement in Hunan. If H.E. Chang is sincerely desirous of bringing this strife to a satisfactory close, he will deal at once with this man and his official associates of the Benevolent Hall. Let him secure their degradation and banishment, and the anti-foreign agitation in Hunan will die a natural death. The missionaries will find travelling in Hunan as pleasant as they do now in Hupeb, and the Vicercy himself will have less difficulty in governing the province on the lines of his own choice. Those who are at the head of the anti-foreign movement in linnan are the sworn enemies of all progress, and bent on opposing the introduction of every innevation, however beneficial to the country. It is not in (the interest of the foreigners only that I suggest (the punishment of these men, but in the interest | of the people of Hunan also. Besides, to punish C the printers of these publications, whilst their if authors and real disseminators are allowed to go P scol-free, would be atrocious. I greatly fear, I however, that this is the very thing that is go- Benares (Old) ing to be done. But can the Vicercy bring Chou Han and his associates to book ? Perhaps not, un'ess pressure is brought to bear upon him from Peking. It is for the representatives December :- For Continent-272 bales raw tilk, of the Foreign Powers in Peking to bring 63 cause silk piece goods, 27 bales waste silk, pressure to bear on the Central Government, and | 750 packages tes, and 53 packages sundri s. thus make it possible for the Viceroy to deal. with the case. "Lot them alone and the whole thing will die down of itself." So writes a friend from Shauguai. But my friend has never been to Hunan, and knows nothing about the Hunanese at home. The policy of the past has been the policy of letting them alone, and Dec., had fresh N.E. wind and high sea. the result has been what we have seen this year. In the interest of China, as well as in our own interest. I hope and pray that our Minister in Peking will not let them alone, till Hunan shall cease to be the fount of the poisonous literature which has done so much mischief of late.
